

Another image of the galaxies, this card has a more vibrant image of space and again the bold white text creates good contrast and also uses a similar Star Trek font.

Space to write to whomever you please

In honor of the future birthdate of Captain James T. Kirk*, I encourage you to challenge the impossible, to refuse to accept the no-win situation, and to boldly go where no one has gone before.

Please let us know how we can help you along the way.

Tell them how you really feel

*According to Star Trek lore, James Tiberius Kirk will be born on March 22, 2233 in Riverside, Iowa.
